

Our Company:

Zports.com is an online recruitment & career management platform for players, coaches, teams and agents in the pro and semi-pro team sports market. Our platform is live with almost 100,000 users across football, basketball and ice hockey.

Teams post openings, filter through hundreds of applications, and easily identify the top candidates using our own matching algorithm. They can also scout for talent.

On the other side, players can have an up-to-date profile, share their achievements on their own feed (videos, pictures, statistics), apply to openings and reach out to teams. Players will receive instant feedback on likely success when they apply to an opening.

We make recruitment simple and transparent for team sports.

Activities:

Over the next few months, we plan to do a big marketing and sales drive to bring clubs in the Greater Region onto the platform. We are looking for interns to support us. Your day-to-day activities would include finding the contact information of relevant team officials, reaching out to them (via calls and emails), motivate them to register on our platform and to list openings (such as try-outs, scholarships or even jobs).

Requirements:

Fluency in English

Fluency in German and/or French

A proactive approach and willingness to pick up a phone

Basic IT skills

Benefits:

This opportunity will be a fast-track introduction into digital marketing and sales with a steep learning curve. You will be working side-by-side with the two experienced founders, Stephan Peters and Iris Hoffelt, who are deeply embedded in the entrepreneurial ecosystem in Luxembourg.

Duration:

Start on 01-Feb-2021

End toward 30-Apr-2021 (but open to extend)

How to apply:

Send us an email to info@zports.com with your CV and a short motivation why you would love to work with us.
